Five Killed In Crashes, 26 Spared

Two Accidents Occur in Thick Fog Within Eight Miles; Dead on Army Plane

'Miracle' Reported

Passenger Plane Hit Live Wires, Burned, but 26 Are Safe

By ROGER D. GREENE
Alexandria, Va., Oct. 12 (AP)—Two plane crashes in a pea soup fog eight miles apart last night killed all five aboard an army bomber but spared 26 persons who crawled from the blazing wreckage of a big Eastern Air Lines D.C.-4.

The planes, attempting to land under a 300-foot ceiling, struck within 40 minutes of each other in the scrub pine countryside near here, a few miles south of Washington.

Eye-witnesses said the D.C.-4, en route from Miami to New York via Atlanta, apparently hit a farmer's lumber pile as the pilot groped blindly through the dense fog for a landing. The ship careened against a well house, ripped into a 2,300-volt high tension power line crashed in a valley and burst into flames.

Debris was strewn over half a mile of the wooded muddy terrain about five miles south of here.

"It was incredible that anybody got out alive," said one of the first persons to reach the scene.

"The plane's wings were ripped off and the cabin fuselage was burning furiously halfway down the hill. Part of a wing lay 1,000 feet away on the hilltop. One of the plane's four motors was 500 feet off to the side. Little pieces of steel were scattered all over the field.

One by one the stewardess, Miss Betty Camera, 26, of Allentown, Pa., checked off the 21 adult passengers as they emerged from the escape hatch of the flaming fuselage. Then she shepherded them to the top of the hill for safety in case of an explosion.

Mrs. Marvin Edwards of Sweet-boro, N. J., came out with her shoes torn off by the plane's impact, but with her 10-month-old son safe in her arms.

"We're all safe—everybody!" one of the passengers cried, over and over.

Pilot, Co-Pilot Hurt

The pilot, Capt. Joe S. Morris, of Miami, stepped dazedly from the plane after the passengers had got out and said:

"I'm all right. I was right on the beam....."

Then he began to gush blood from the mouth. Capt. Morris and his co-pilot, P. K. Zepernick, also of Miami, were reported by Eastern Air Lines officials to have been the only ones injured.

Narrow as their escape from flaming death had been, most of the passengers expressed willingness to fly immediately to their destinations beyond Washington. Dense fog continued through the night, however, preventing any flights from National Airport.

Five of eight New York bound passengers went on by train at 3 a. m. while others found accommodations in Washington hotels. Passengers included C. T. Robinson, Rye, N. Y., and Irvine Shotland, 396 Summit avenue, Cedarhurst, L. I.

On Way to Maryland
In the night's first and more tragic accident, the B-25 army plane was enroute from Langley Field, Va., to Andrews Airfield, Md.

At 11:26 p. m. the army craft reported heavy fog and asked permission to land at National Airport, Washington, or at the navy's Bolling Field, across the Potomac river. Told to wait a moment, that another plane was coming in, and the B-25 circled away and nothing more was heard from it until it crashed in a wooded area about six miles south of the airport.

Farmers living in the isolated area say they heard the plane circling around about three or four times and then suddenly it blew up in the air.

The army withheld the names of those aboard pending notification of next of kin.

While police and army officials were still making their way to the remnants of the bomber, the pilot of the Eastern Airlines craft

Meet Death in Accident

JOHN J. HARTMAN, JR.

VERNON VAN ETTEN

Three Kingston youths, all veterans of World War 2, were killed early this morning when the auto in which they were riding collided with a bus on the Rosendale road, two miles from the city. The trio crushed to death in a twisted mass of metal were John J. Hartman, Jr., 21, Freeman employee of 79 Henry street, who served as yeoman 2/c with the U. S. Navy in the South Pacific; Vernon Van Etten, 23, of 119 Cedar street, army anti-aircraftman in the South Pacific; and John Francis Egan, 27, of 60 East Chester street, driver of the death car, who was a technical sergeant with the A.A.F.

Four on Bus Injured in Collision

Car Is Demolished

Adirondack Trailway Bus Is Damaged Badly

Three Kingston young men were killed instantly and four other persons sustained slight injuries in a head-on collision between a passenger car and an Adirondack Trailway bus, about 4:30 this morning on Route 32 a short distance south of the DeWitt Lake intersection.

The major tragedy increased to five the number of persons killed in automobile accidents in Ulster county within a week.

The dead:
John F. Egan, 27, of 60 East Chester street, Kingston, presumably the driver of the car.

John J. Hartman, Jr., 21, of 79 Henry street, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartman, and an apprentice printer with The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Vernon Van Etten, about 21, 119 Cedar street, employed by the C. A. Baltz Company.

All three victims are ex-servicemen, young Hartman having served in the Navy, while Van Etten and Egan were ex-GIs.

Four Are Injured

The injured were:
Kenneth Bushey, 31, of Malone, N. Y., but now residing in Kingston, driver of the bus. He is at the Kingston Hospital with bruises of the right leg and left ankle and bruises about the head. An X-ray will be taken to determine the full extent of his injuries.

Frank Moore, 26, of Rosendale, held in the Kingston Hospital for X-rays for possible chest injuries.

Kenneth Post, Rosendale, a driver for Adirondack Trailway, who was riding as a "deadhead," treated for minor bruises and shock and then released.

George Matthews, Seaman 2nd class, U.S.N., of Maybrook, N. Y., assigned to the U.S.S. Valley Forge at Newport, Rhode Island, released from the Kingston Hospital after first aid treatment.

Drizzle Falling

The sheriff's office investigators said it was drizzling at the time but the highway at the scene of the accident showed no marks of skidding.

The front half of the Egan machine, a 1935 Oldsmobile was completely demolished, while the bus was somewhat damaged about the left front ends with the headlight jammed in.

According to a statement by the bus driver and witnesses riding in the bus, the Trailway bus was proceeding south, going downhill toward Rosendale when the tragedy occurred.

'Slowed' for Intersection
The driver said he was going between 35 and 40 miles an hour and was slowing up for the intersection. He had passed a short distance south of the intersection and was rounding a slight grade to the left when he saw the headlights of a car coming over the hill toward Kingston.

The driver and witnesses said that when the car got to within 40 to 50 feet of the bus it suddenly swerved to the left and bolted across the highway directly in the path of the bus.

Swerves Off Highway
In attempting to avoid striking the car, the driver said, he applied the brakes and swerved off the highway to the right and piled into a bank jamming the front end of the bus into the bank.

Bounces Across Highway
The Egan car, the witnesses said, ricocheted off the left side of the bus, bounced across the highway to the right and came to a halt enmeshed in the wires of a guard rail.

The car struck the bus with terrific impact, shearing the car in half. It came to rest almost opposite the bus, with what was left of the front end of the guard pointed toward an easterly direction against the guard rail.

Egan was pinned behind the wheel and it was necessary to use a wrecker to pull the dashboard away to release him. At first it was thought that acetylene torches

Truman to Give Answer 'Very Soon' on Meat Problem

1,000 Camp in Rain With Meat as Lure

Grapevine Supplies News

By PAUL GARDNER
All Night Long

New York, Oct. 11 (AP)—Outside a Manhattan meat market today stood a line of more than 1,000 wet and weary people, many of whom had been camped there since 9 o'clock last night in response to the lure of meat for Sunday dinner.

The store was one of the few in the city that had meat. Through the grapevine of the meat hungry public, word went around that the store would have a good supply today and people came from all over the city.

Early birds brought stools, chairs or boxes, blankets and thermos jugs. Through the night some played gin rummy and pinocle and husbands and wives alternated in the line so they could catch a few winks of sleep.

Wind-swept rain doused them in the morning and when the store opened for business three patrolmen and officers from two patrol cars, were needed to keep the pushing, shouting line in order.

Course for Auto Owners

Fort Dix, N. J., Oct. 11—A seven-weeks lecture course in automotive mechanics, designed to benefit potential and present car owners, was inaugurated at Fort Dix this week. The lectures, illustrated with motion picture films, are free to all officers and enlisted personnel at Fort Dix who care to take advantage of the instruction during their off-duty hours. It is hoped that the instruction will enable those taking the course to perform minor repairs on their own vehicles in emergencies, with a consequent saving of money.

Meanwhile, from officials who know what went on at yesterday's cabinet discussion of the meat issue there came conflicting reports of what the President may do.

One official said he believes Mr. Truman is inclined toward some modification of the present meat control program, presumably involving higher ceilings or perhaps a certificate plan insuring against a long-run profit loss on livestock.

Another official said he got the impression the President is opposed to a middle-ground program of this kind.

Italian Deputies

Object to Movie Work

Rome, Oct. 11 (AP)—Italian deputies muttered today as actress Sarah Churchill, daughter of the former British Prime Minister, entered the Italian Parliament Hall at Montecitorio to the whir of movie cameras.

Miss Churchill was dressed in a period costume for her lead role as Elena, Baroness of Santa Giulia, in "Daniele Cortis," the 19th Century romance by Antonio Fogazzaro for which scenes now are being filmed.

Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti said briefly: "such traffic in parliament."

Deputy Pietro Calamandrei, Florence University professor, said the sight of feigned deputies mingling with real ones was "ludicrous."

Meuccio Ruini, president of the state council, said he would see what could be done about stopping the spectacle, which the gallery public appeared to be enjoying more than it usually did the deliberations of the assembly.

LeFevre Addresses

Saugerties P.T.A.

His Stand for Firm Policy With Soviet States

Congressman Jay LeFevre addressed the Saugerties Parent Teacher Association Wednesday evening, October 9 on the topic, "Working Together for Peace-time Living." In his opening remarks Mr. LeFevre stated that whereas much of the work of running the government is routine, it is also sometimes rather complex, since any proposed bill can affect so many people in so many ways.

Mr. LeFevre, turning his attention to Russia, stated that we were making progress with that country until Mr. Wallace's speech. The Congressman said that he was in favor of a firm policy with Russia. He believes that we must decide what we want and then declare ourselves openly in favor of it, a method which the Russians can understand best. Russia, he declared, strongly believes that we will have a depression and a consequent violent economic upheaval. If we do have such a depression, he said, it would result in war. Therefore, in order to prevent this we must level off our economy. We must prove that the capitalist system can succeed. If we are to have free enterprise, it must not only work but work better than controlled economy. It must help not only a few but everyone.

To prove that our way is best, the process of change must start at the grass roots. Changes are necessary, he said. "During the war measures had to be taken to give the government almost dictatorial powers, so that it could act quickly. Now it is time to remove the unnecessary regulations. The growing dictatorial strength of labor must be checked. Although labor has many legitimate claims which must be recognized, labor unions must be careful not to abuse their power. If there are abuses, the people will finally rise up in indignation and the gains which labor has made will be lost. Labor and management need reasonable and honorable men, and should use the compromise method in their dealings."

"In order to develop a truly peaceful world we must have proper training by the school, home and church," Congressman LeFevre said. "Duty needs to be emphasized. There can be no freedom without responsibility. In the homes, schools and churches of America lies the answer to the question, 'Can we have peace in the world?'"

Mrs. Anthony W. Bittermann, president, presided over the business meeting which preceded the program. Miss May Evans introduced the program, the first feature of which was group singing under the supervision of Miss Shirley Hubert and Robert Lambert. Dr. Grant D. Morse presented the guest speaker.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program, Mrs. Henry Schroeder was chairman.

Flashes of Life

Sketched in Brief

Eye Trouble

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—William F. Curry, 27, has been warned by Chief Judge John D. Hillery of city court to "control those rolling eyes of yours."

Miss Ruth Taylor, 40, complained to the judge yesterday that Curry "rolled his eyes at me."

Both Curry and Miss Taylor, who were arrested on disorderly conduct charges after a fight had developed between them over the eye rolling incident, were given suspended sentences by Judge Hillery.

Strike for Hair Bob

Kumamoto, Japan, Oct. 12 (AP)—Three hundred Japanese high school girls went out on strike today in defense of a woman's right to bob her hair.

The Kumamoto principal stuck by Jap tradition and dismissed three teachers who had recommended that the girls discard the old bun for the bob. Whereupon the girls students walked out.

Duck Windfall

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 12 (AP)—Residents of the Wilder street neighborhood who are suffering from the meat shortage got some unexpected relief from the skies.

During the evening, there was a sudden wild honking and duck began fluttering to the ground in the dozen, some of them injured. Starved residents begged five of them before they could recover their equilibrium.

It was believed the flock flew too low and, blinded by lights, became entangled in telephone and power lines.

What's In a Name

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—Chief Petty Officer Raymond Dier Lovely of the navy has changed his name to John Rick—and that's just lovely with Rick.

County Judge Leslie F. Robinson yesterday granted the sailor permission to change his name after he said his name was "embarrassing" and resulted in "ridicule and derision" by his shipmates.

$725,000 Embezzlement

Chicago, Oct. 12 (AP)—A 22-year-old Miami, Fla., express company money order clerk who came here to attempt to win back the girl who had broken their wartime engagement was in jail today facing charges of embezzling more than $725,000. Police had possession of $125,820 in cash and negotiable money orders which Lieut. John Murphy said was surrendered by the youth, Elmer Stewart Hurt, who had quit his $30 a week job September 27.

Murphy said Hurt, sought by Miami police on warrants charging him with embezzlement, admitted the charges and expressed willingness to return to the Florida city.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By ROY ESSOYAN (For Hal Boyle)

Shanghai, Oct. 12 (AP)—American greenbacks, however highly rated elsewhere on the globe, are disdainfully deflated by Shanghai money-changers unless they're fresh and c-r-i-s-p as toasted breakfast cereal.

Even so, if it isn't a 10 or 20-dollar bill, the black market financial wizard fixes you with a baleful eye and calmly discounts the currency like a used toothbrush.

And, at the going exchange rate of 4,100 Chinese dollars to one U. S., he hands you bills that look like they have been used as innersoles for Chinese army shoes.

This is a city where a U. S. dollar is worth anything from 90 to 95 cents, but even a dollar, Shanghai's financial foundations shift like desert sands, with the value of American money (there, it's called gold) subject to more changes than an old maid's mind.

An unidentified but expert engraver somewhere in the city began turning out a remarkable likeness of a U. S. $50 bill, which resulted overnight in a substantial reduction of the value of the real thing on the Shanghai black market. Some merchants, even after a minute scrutiny, flatly refuse to accept a fifty.

If a genuine U. S. $10 note appears as if it has changed hands as few as a half-dozen times, it's worth only $9.60 (or 39,360 Chinese dollars). If it has been seen more than once, it's worth only $9.30. Ten one-dollar bills, according to Shanghai's self-made banking rules, bring only slightly more than the equivalent of 90 cents apiece in tattered Chinese "lettuce."

$100 Is Worth $92
A U. S. $100 note, regardless of its newness, is worth U. S. $92. No bank has dealt in foreign exchange since the end of the war, and most money-changers on the black market view with dark suspicion any currency other than American.

The Philippine peso, while worth 50 cents American anywhere in the islands, is treated like an outcast in Shanghai. Those Chinese who can be persuaded to accept the peso at all discount it drastically.

A businessman, who concludes a U. S. $10,000 deal recently, delivered the money in $10 and $50 bills, as requested. Nearly $4,000 was returned as unacceptable. The notes were neither old nor damaged—just not crisp enough.

Interest Rates Puzzling
Interest rates are equally puzzling. Interest on inflated Chinese dollars is more than double that on U. S. dollars. A loan of U. S. $5,000 on gold as security brings U. S. $400 a month interest. A millionaire, in Chinese currency (less than $250 U. S.), can get $180,000 a month interest on his $180,000. If he let the loan ride for a year, he would have $3,000,000 at the current interest rate. The catch is that by then his $3,000,000 might be worth no more than his $180,000 is now.

The flustered newcomer may want to try his luck in some other Chinese city. On the books, a two-day steamship trip on a Chinese vessel costs $18,000 (U. S. $440), but bookings are closed. However, if he is willing to pay U. S. $25 on the black market, he finds there actually is plenty of space. Some visitors are surprised to learn that it costs considerably more to unload and deliver a cargo locally than to ship it across the Pacific. It's part of the "squeeze" which has been applied to virtually everything. Apartment rental could be considered fairly reasonable, if it were not for the U. S. $5,000 to U. S. $10,000 or more, demanded as "key money"—to obtain entry into the dwelling. No one can guarantee that the renter will get his "key money" returned upon leaving the place. As one veteran Shanghai business man put it, no one here can guarantee anything.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

"DEAR SIR" OR "DEAR MR."

A stenographer asks: "Is it true that 'Dear Sir' is the only salutation really correct to use in a business office when writing to a man whom the employer does not know personally? In the office I left, my boss liked 'Dear Mr. Brown' regardless of whether or not he knew him. He thought 'Dear Sir' only suitable on rare occasions. Now in this new office, I am told that 'Dear Sir' is exact."

Strictly speaking, "Dear Sir" or even "Sir" is correct when writing to a stranger. And "My dear Mr. Brown" would be better than "Dear Mr. Brown." In other words, your former employer was evidently a friendly person.

Bride Chooses Her Name

Dear Mrs. Post: Mary Alice Jones is marrying John Henry Smith. She wants to drop the Jones, but her friends tell her that her signature now must be Mary Jones Smith. Which is correct?

Answer: There may be occasions when "legal papers," especially those relating to inherited property or bequests, may require that she sign as noted, but on all ordinary occasions, her signature can be whatever she chooses.

Visiting a Man's Family

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered proper for a young, unmarried woman to visit the relatives of a man friend for a week-end?

Answer: Yes, if his relatives have sent her an invitation and if her family approves.

Meat First

Dear Mrs. Post: Which dishes should be removed first when serving dishes are put on the table and passed around and there is no one to serve?

Answer: The meat is taken off first, the vegetables next, the condiments last.

For Mrs. Post's booklet 503, "The Etiquette of Service," send 10 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Lutherans Look To Vets to Lead Christian Peace

Cleveland, Oct. 12 (AP)—The United Lutheran Church held out its hand to war veterans today to "help lead the world to the dawn of a new day of Christian brotherhood and peace."

In its final biennial convention session last night, the church group passed a resolution calling on former members of the armed services to "give themselves sacrificially in that continuing total warfare of Jesus Christ."

Earlier, Dr. John J. Scherer, Jr., Richmond, Va., pastor, told 50 veterans in his congregation had more than doubled attendance at his church by visiting inactive and prospective members.

Their efforts were so successful, he reported, that standing room wasn't even available at the church last Sunday.

The Lutheran Board of Social Missions was ordered by the convention to "gather information regarding such movements, to evaluate their place in the life of the church and to report finding upon these matters."

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the church and former Akron, O., minister, reported that European Lutherans are looking to the United States for leadership and have asked that American representation on the Lutheran World Federation be increased.

He said it was imperative that congregations raise their full quota of $5,000,000 for Lutheran World Action and the $2,500,000 budget for operation of boards and agencies.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 12, 1946

A WORD FROM COLUMBUS

It's a long time since 1492 when Columbus sailed the ocean blue. It would be a thoroughly surprised Genoese sailor if he were now to steer the Santa Maria into New York harbor—or Baltimore, Quebec or Montreal. All those people and their strange new ways of life!

Considering how much is owed to Christopher Columbus by us all—Canada, the United States and the nations below our borders—little is known about Columbus the man. But one thing we do know, and to that we owe our homes. The guy had persistence.

He began when very young to dream of the voyage, the short route to India. In spite of discouragements and disbelief poured over his head by almost everyone who heard him talk about it, he never let go the dream. Through youth and into middle age he still hung on.

Finally he heeded success. Isabella of Aragon financed the famous voyage. Once more he came so near disaster that he felt the wind from its garments. Once more he conquered. Despair had gripped the crew. They mutinied, demanded that he turn back. "Sail on!" replied Columbus, facing the unknown. "Sail on! Sail on!"

It's a good time to take a leaf from that book. Do we want peace and a settled, stable world? Or do we want instability and wars without ceasing?

It's going to take guts to get peace. It will take hard work and self-denial and a will to hold fast the main principle but to let the other fellow have his way about smaller matters. It's going to be hard to get the world we want. Many will be the discouragements and mutinies. What would Columbus say?

"Keep on!" he'd cry. "Never give up. Try again after all hope's gone!"
"Keep on! Keep on! Keep on!"

The current craze for "information" is all right, but too many informants don't know what to do with it when they get it.

WAR BALLOT DEADLINE

Under New York State laws, election machinery is still functioning and affords every man and woman in service an opportunity to vote as fully as if he were present at home on Election Day.

All a serviceman need do to get a war ballot is to send a postcard or a letter to the State War Ballot Commission in Albany or to his local board of elections and state his full name, his home address and his military address and ask for a war ballot over his signature. The request must be made before October 15.

Crime is exciting, but it's normal procedure that keeps the world on its axis.

FIRE KILLS MORE THAN WAR

Since 1920, more Americans have lost their lives by fire than in all the devastating battles of World War II, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. In the last decade, 100,000 victims have been claimed by fire, and 170,000 more have been seriously burned, many of them disfigured for life.

During Fire Prevention Week and during every other week the American people can effectively prevent fire by following a few simple rules. Ninety per cent of all fires, big and little, are preventable. The National Fire Waste Council offers these suggestions to the homeowner and business man:

Check from cellar to attic for rubbish—and get rid of it. Check heating systems. Keep ashes in metal containers and shield fireplaces with screens. Don't smoke in bed, and keep plenty of ash trays handy. Don't clean your clothes at home with flammable agents. Never bring gasoline into the house for any purpose. Keep matches away from children. Replace frayed electric cords and defective electric appliances.

There's nothing difficult or costly about these rules. And their observance would save this country thousands of lives and hundreds

THE OPA ERROR

As it grows increasingly difficult to grasp the sense of desperation when President Truman held on to OPA, in spite of its ability to produce only famine, it is interesting to go back to the beginnings of this institution.

At the preliminary hearings, Bernard Baruch cautioned:

"... By itself, price control has no value and will fail. ... I proposed that some date on which the normal operation of the law of supply and demand could be said to have controlled prices, be selected and that the entire price structure be stabilized, I mean not freezing but subjected to a ceiling, as of that date. Prices, rents, wages, commission fees, interest rates—in short the price of every item of commerce or service—would not be permitted to rise above the maximum on that date. They could fluctuate below this ceiling. ..."

Powered from 1942, the OPA has remained. It allows the general price level to run wild, while dealing with a few individual prices. ...

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., disagreed with Mr. Baruch:

"It has been suggested during these hearings that this price-control bill should include a ceiling over wages. I should like to go on record as not sharing in this view. In free countries labor is not a commodity, human beings are not property; and they should not be treated as such."

"I fully appreciate that wages affect the cost of production and the general level of prices. However, I feel very definitely that if we can on the one hand keep the cost of living from rising, and on the other hand impose adequate taxes on excessive profits, then we will have removed the major causes for demands for general wage increases. ..."

Yet, it was the failure to put a ceiling on wages which got us into our present troubles, because when Henry Wallace permitted the Department of Commerce to issue statistics which he, himself, has repudiated, he started the series of strikes for higher wages.

Donald Nelson came into the picture and testified:

"But I think ... that we have to depend upon the fairness of that administrator to take all of these things into account. ... I believe that it will be administered fairly, and, if it is not, I believe that the President will see that it is and I am unable to account for all of the apprehension of the farmer or of this or the other fellow that he will be mistreated. ..."

But the fact is that for a farmer's profit, a subsidy was substituted, and that with regard to meat, there has been fairness nowhere. Obedience, unwillingness to face facts have brought on a meat famine. The obvious fact is that at this moment the United States has the largest cattle population in its history but the people cannot get meat.

The Price Control Bill brought on that famine—a bill which Donald Nelson, Leon Henderson and all the Big-Wigs of government assured Congress would be administered fairly if it were permitted to be administratively flexible.

And here on page 1627 of the Hearings I find an interesting colloquy between Congressman Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas and Ralph Hetzel, Jr., of the C.I.O.:

"MR. MILLS. Mr. Hetzel, is it not a fact that the increases that the wage earners have received so far—that is, since the defense program started—have come about, not as a result of increased living costs, but rather as a result of increased earnings on the part of industry?"

"MR. HETZEL. Well, wages increase generally do not come about as a result of increased living costs, as I understand. They come about rather as a result of effective collective bargaining, or as a result, when you speak of average weekly wages, of increased operation in industry."

"MR. MILLS. You have said, though, in this statement, or Mr. Murray has said, that when labor sits down at the collective-bargaining table it never requests any more than it is entitled to."

"MR. HETZEL. We think we are entitled to more than is justified by the increasing cost of living."

Somebody must have been all wrong—because we have no more living cost than we had in 1942. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SCALES ON SKIN

One of the "hard to cure" skin diseases is psoriasis—patches of reddish white scales on the skin. When scales are removed the underlying surface is very red or bleeding. It appears to be more common in fair rather than in dark skins. The cause is unknown and it is not contagious.

As medical students we were taught that "nerves" or emotional upsets were likely the cause but the fact that it is found in strong robust individuals, "without nerves", is well known.

These patches of scales, which look like splashes of plaster on the skin, are usually found on elbows, knees, upper surface of chest, scalp, and abdomen. Itching is present.

In former days treatment consisted of arsenic internally and 5 per cent ammoniated mercury ointment externally and this treatment is still in use. As skin specialists found their patients improved during the warm weather heat in various forms is now used—exposures to sunlight and ultraviolet light.

In Ohio State Medical Journal Dr. I. L. Schenberg reports observing 207 cases of psoriasis among 7,000 skin cases in a military hospital which is slightly above the average found in the general population.

After trying various drugs to increase internal heat, various diets and methods of treatment, the best method of treatment to be external applications.

A soapsoak and preparations to soften the hard scaly tissues were employed for the first few days of treatment. This was followed by a 5 per cent crude coal tar ointment in conjunction with ultraviolet light.

In former articles I have mentioned all the above methods of treatment and also the diet that which helps many cases without any other treatment of any kind.

It is only fair however to quote Dr. Schenberg's final statement regarding this stubborn disease which comes and goes in a most discouraging way. "Certain cases of psoriasis will not be influenced by treatment of any kind."

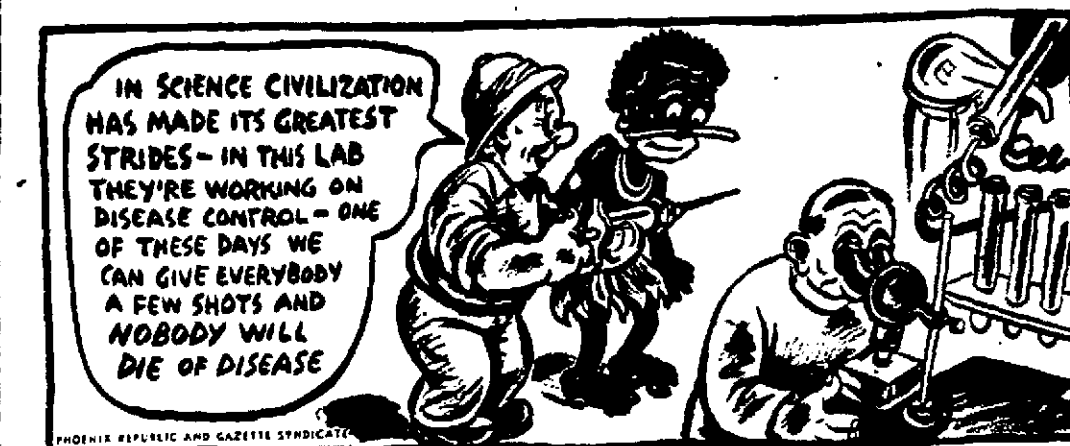

Aene—Pimples
Aene (pimples) is one of the most distressing and embarrassing of ailments. It is caused by Dr. Barton's helpful booklet on this subject entitled "Aene—Pimples," containing the latest and a free cent stamp, to cover cost of mailing, to The Ball Publishing Company, 1000 Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 10, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

of millions of dollars worth of property every year. The big job of fire prevention simply consists of all of us doing little jobs regularly and conscientiously.

Old King Coal is on the domestic agenda again.

This is an ideal time for fanatics to spread the meatless diet gospel.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Oct. 11—Charles Personeus has received his discharge from the army and is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. E. Hansen of Brooklyn paid a visit to her summer home here during the week-end.

P. J. Smith has improved his garage by the addition of a cement floor.

The slate roofing of the telephone central building has been laid, completing the exterior of the building. A cement walk from the front of the building to the state road was completed last week.

Wednesday, Oct. 12, 1904, Charles Hesley and Lotie M. Boice were married by the Rev. John H. Fyfe, pastor of the Shokan M. E. Church, in the old village. The groom was a son of John Hesley, a Civil War veteran, and his bride was a daughter of Henry Boice, a farmer residing along the Esopus creek road to Boiceville.

Henry Gebbelein spent last week with relatives in Brooklyn. Mr. Gebbelein is now engaged in building a wire cable fence along the road side of his lawn.

Peter Brandel, engineer on a Merchant Marine tanker, is on a voyage to Germany.

Edward Leyder, Jr., a former resident, is visiting his parents and sister in Quarryville while on furlough from an army base in Colorado.

The foliage is turning fast along the mountainside and the annual fall color show should be at its best this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cohen, who were married Sunday, are expected home from their wedding trip today. The young couple will reside at Ashokan.

Charles McNair, a new resident, has repainted his residence white with dark blue trim. Peter Mastota, another newcomer to the village and a neighbor of the McNairs, has had his cottage adjoining the main house painted white with green trim.

Mrs. Frank Myers of New York, formerly of Shokan, spent Tuesday night at the Longyear House.

Fourteen permanent resident families have located in Shokan during the past two years and two families have acquired summer homes here. None of these houses were built by the present owners, however, the only new residence being that of a couple who sold their local home.

Lilies-of-the-Valley Ideal for Indoors

By DEAN HALIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

AMONG the easiest of flowers to grow indoors are lilies-of-the-valley, but when ordering for indoor planting be sure to designate "cold storage pips."

Lily-of-the-valley "pips" which come from cold storage will begin to grow immediately upon being planted. This type does not require the usual rooting period which is needed by most forced bulbs.

Cold storage "pips" can be planted in sand, peat or prepared bulb fiber which can be purchased in most seed stores. If the "pips" are planted in bulb fiber you will be assured of large flower heads, for it contains plant food in addition to charcoal which aids in keeping the water sweet.

You will find that the cold storage lily-of-the-valley "pips" are practically all cut or "bobbed" within 4 or 5 inches of the tip of the bulb itself, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

The easiest method of growing lily-of-the-valley bulbs is in bowls or pots which have no drainage. A bowl or pot 5 inches in diameter will accommodate 6 to 7 bulbs, as illustrated.

Place the bulbs in an upright position, leaving the tips of the "pips" just above the surface as illustrated. Sand, bulb fiber or peat moss should be pressed firmly around the roots. Then fill the container with lukewarm water. After an hour tilt the pot to drain away any surplus water. Place the pot near a light window. Add water as needed to keep the sand or moss moist. In about 5 or 6 weeks the "pips" will flower.

SCHOOL BOOKS POLITICALLY SLANTED

Some Californians who think parents have a legitimate interest in what their children are taught, are spearheading a drive to clean up politically slanted textbooks. Since some of the suspected books are used here and there throughout the United States, the drive doubtless will be watched with interest from New York to Podunk.

Specifically challenged are the seventh and eighth grade books "Building America," a three-volume set giving a smattering of current history, geography and politics. Aaron M. Sargent, San Francisco attorney and head of the California department, Sons of American Revolution, rushed before the State Board of Education last summer when he learned that the board was about to adopt the set "sight unseen, like a pig in a poke." He has succeeded in stalling final action to date.

"Whether or not the books are adopted," Sargent told me recently, "we believe the state legislature should thoroughly probe the case to find out, among other things, who is pressuring the school board and why some board members are so friendly toward the recommended books."

The SAR has filed suit in a San Francisco court to prevent adoption of the series.

I looked over the books myself and find them a masterful example of subtle New Deal, pro-Russian propaganda. The job is so smooth even a school teacher may not detect the propaganda, which nevertheless is potent, taking advantage of the fact that American people are trusting and little given to suspicion.

Repetition is the trick. By mentioning scores of times, his picture appearing in 15 places; while the name of Theodore Roosevelt is never mentioned in this history of America.

Sargent says much of this set of books, including the unit on "Our Constitution," was originally prepared by the Federal Writers' project of New York City, supported by W.P.A. funds and well sprinkled with leftists. This unit attacks the Constitution and the then un-packed Supreme Court on page after page—and just in time, Sargent points out, to soften up teachers and school pupils for Roosevelt's assault on that historically honorable body. The attack is accomplished chiefly by the delicate technique of asking insinuating questions, and making mildly stirring statements about the court and the document which often has been called the greatest written expression of human rights.

Repetition is the trick. By repeating the insinuations over and over, scores of times and with each attack can be so mild as to appear innocent. At the cumulative effect is considerable, planting suspicion in the minds of the seventh graders concerning these two mainstays of our government so much hated by "Marxists."

On page 2, "Volume 1," the authors of the Constitution are made to appear old fashioned and out of date by the W.P.A. historians who, supposing the founding fathers could come back and look in on us today, say "Some (of them) would be surprised to read decisions of the Supreme Court, saying the government could not regulate industry and agriculture."

This is, of course, a Marxist plug for government control of business. Released to the schools in October, 1936, it also was an upstart at the then still unpolitical Supreme Court for having ruled Roosevelt's Agricultural Adjustment Administration an unconstitutional act. To further advance their point that the Constitution is antiquated the New Deal project writers drew a horse and buggy in the margin beside this argument.

Court-Packing Justified
Speaking of the convention to rewrite the Articles of Confederation, the W.P.A. historians took this little crack at the handwriting of such men as George Washington and Benjamin Franklin: "Patrick Henry declined (to take part in the convention) because he said he 'smelt a rat.'"

After the court was partially disrupted by Roosevelt, an edition of the textbooks says, "The President believed this plan, bringing new and younger blood into the court, would liberalize the Supreme Court, so that Congress could pass such welfare acts as NIRA and the AAA."

Remarks designed to make the pupil class conscious are frequent as for instance this: "The American Liberty League formed by well-to-do Republicans and Democrats opposed the New Deal." You can see that in the hands of a class-conscious teacher, merely tilting the nose upward at the proper angle on the expression "well-to-do" would put over the desired effect.

If you tie in with this silk-hat, slightly smeared American Liberty League the fight for the right to own property you can see that capitalist idea at the same time. That's what the authors of "Building America" did.

Pressure is on the California board of education from various unseen and doubtless well-heeled sources, who will also fight to keep these books in schools in other states. The Sons of the American Revolution need moral and financial support. Here's a likely job for the American Legion and the V.F.W.

F.B.I. Arrests 3 For Attempt to Sell Secret Photos

raignment October 23.

The men, George Wallace

The F.B.I. said the men had attempt to sell six pictures, taken on Tinian in the late summer of last year and described by the F.B.I. as "most detrimental to the security of the United States," for $7,000.

Not Bomb Itself

Early announcements yesterday of the arrests said the photographs were of the atomic bomb

but a later bureau statement issued in Washington said further study had disclosed the pictures

"were not of the atomic bomb itself, but were of material and related equipment to the atomic bomb.

The men posted bond after a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Ernest Vol-

kard yesterday. They asked sufficient time to obtain counsel and

Yankees' Shakeup Has Begun; Gordon Goes to Cleveland

Allie Reynolds, 27, Pitcher
Will Go to New York
in Deal; Others
May Be Shifted

By TED MEIER
New York, Oct. 12 (AP)—The long expected shakeup in the ranks of the New York Yankees, once the scourge of the baseball world, was started in earnest.

In a surprise announcement at midnight, the Yankees announced they had traded Joe "Flash" Gordon, star second baseman, to the Cleveland Indians for Allie Reynolds, a 27-year-old right-handed pitcher who won 11 games and lost 15 the past season.

The Yankees also sent Joe Edward Bockman, a rookie third sacker, to the Indians for an un-discussed amount of cash and players to be announced later. Bockman, trained with the Yankees in Panama last spring before being shifted to the club's Kansas City farm in the American Association.

The deal, apparently made by Larry MacPhail, president of the Yankees, and Bill Veeck, president of the Indians, at the World Series in Boston, follows the unexpected resignation of Bill Dickey as manager in the closing days of the season. Dickey had succeeded Joe McCarthy at the helm in May.

MacPhail, who has long been traded as a long-term deal, has been offered to the Yankees in a trade for Ted Williams. MacPhail has made no official comment on that.
Neither has he indicated who will succeed Dickey. Coach Johnny Nuen finished out the season as manager.

In Reynolds, the Yankees have obtained a pitcher known as a "fire-baller." A native of Bethany, Okla., he came up to Cleveland from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., of the Eastern League in 1943 and in his first season led the American League in strikeouts with 151.

His major league career, including this season, shows 51 victories against 47 defeats. During 1946 he appeared in 31 games, pitched 174 innings, yielded 161 hits and hurled three shutouts. He fanned 106 and walked 107. His best year was 1945 when he won 18 and lost 12 with an earned run average of 3.13.

Gordon, who entered the armed service after the 1943 World Series when his sparkling play helped the Yankees whip the St.
Louis Cardinals, had the worst season of his major league career during 1946. He batted only .210, although driving in 45 runs. His lifetime major league batting average (before 1946) was .278, and he had his best season, making 322 in 1942. He is a native of Los Angeles and will be 32 in February.

County Trap Shoot Listed For Katrine Club Sunday

Banner Field Expected to Compete; Meet
Opens 10:30 A. M.;
Practice at 9

Everything is in readiness for Sunday's long-awaited Ulster County Federation Trap Shoot at the new Lake Katrine Club grounds just off the Neighborhood road, Les Hotelling said this morning.

"We expect a banner field of contestants for tomorrow's competition and it looks like an enjoyable program for all who attend," the popular Katrine club secretary added.

Tomorrow's event will be the first since 1942 when Ed Modjeska won the individual county championship award. The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club is the defending champion for the team handicap cup while the New Platz Rod and Gun Club holds the team scratch cup award. All defenders are expected to compete Sunday.

Team shooting will begin promptly at 10:30 o'clock. Howard Mosher, general chairman, announced today. Shooters desiring practice shots should arrive early to insure that such practice is obtained. The traps will be open at 9 o'clock.

Seventeen clubs make up the Federated Sportsman's Clubs of Ulster county and according to Henry York, handicapper chairman of the committee, nearly all of the organizations will have representatives on hand for the meet.

"We've been awaiting a long time to resume this competition," York said, "and now that the day is finally arrived, we expect a great turnout of interested shooters and spectators as well."

Last night it was announced that the Lloyd Rod and Gun Club had selected a first string team for Sunday's event and the same report comes from other members' associations. The Lloyd Club, headed by Richard Burton, Tony Palazzo, Don Vertullo and Gabriel Di Lorenzo.

Although Les Hotelling hasn't announced any other definite shooters for tomorrow's event it is expected that some of the following marksmen will be on hand to take part: Joe Dulin, Don Hornbeck, Harold Keator, C. McPeck, Henry York, Matt Lenihan, Sherrill Keyser, John Van Gonic, Ray Wagner, Howard Mosher, Frank Van Gonsic and several others.

An average of 13 months is the time required for sugar cane to reach maturity.

Truman to Give Answer Very Soon

left outright decontrol or retention of the present price aids as the only alternatives, the official replied:

"That's right."

Importation Discussed

It is known, however, that the possibility of importing meat to help ease the shortage was one of the points discussed by the cabinet.

Given most consideration was whether to bring in fresh meat from Argentina a course which would require removal of a ban imposed because of a hoof and mouth disease threat. Argentina already has offered to ship 4,000,000 pounds of canned meat, which is not covered by the ban.

These proposals prompted sharp criticism on both the political and industry fronts.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) termed the suggested importation of Argentine beef "shocking." He added in a statement:

"The possible destruction of the livestock business in the U. S. would be of little importance compared to losing an election."

Wilbur H. Roe, speaking for the National Independent Meat Packers Association, told a reporter that acceptance of the Argentine offer would be a "most unfortunate solution" to the problem. He added:

"Why encourage foreign meat when the only thing needed is lifting government restrictions?"

May Fare Better

While the controversy over the current shortage rages on, the Agriculture Department came up with a report indicating that housewives may fare some better at butcher shops in the months ahead.

The department's Bureau of Economics said that during the three months ending October 1, shipments of stocker and feeder calves into 11 midwestern corn belt states were 36 per cent greater than during the corresponding period last year.

These are cattle which will go to the slaughter house during the coming winter, spring and summer. They are grain-fed and usually provide a better grade of meat than grass-fed animals.

Other developments included:

Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) said in a broadcast last night that he had recommended to President Truman that meat be decontrolled.

Herbert Marsh, Chicago district director of the C.I.O. Packinghouse Workers Union, told reporters that if meat prices are boosted, demands for higher wages will follow.

Attorney General Clark announced in a statement that "the F.B.I. has made no investigation of the current meat shortages."

Enforcement of O.P.A. regulations, Clark added, "is not the responsibility of the F.B.I."

First Army Headquarters is in receipt of correspondence which lists the Division Association's secretary as Joseph R. Reddy, Jr., Libertyville, Illinois. Inquiries about the Association should be directed to Mr. Reddy.

The 7th is its drive across France as General Patton's 3rd Army spearhead was the first allied unit to cross the Seine and later came into prominence for its heroic stand in Meijel, Holland, liquidation of the Ruhr pocket and epic stand at St. Vith in the Bulge.

The outfit was deactivated in New York a year ago after more than three years of activation. It was organized at Camp Polk, Louisiana in March 1942.

'News Woodmen' Strike
Toronto, Oct. 12 (AP)—Some 12,000 hush camp woodworkers, whose main job is cutting pulpwood for newsprint, struck today for a $5 daily minimum wage, union recognition and improved working conditions. It was believed that newsprint production would not be affected until next year. Newsprint and pulp mills normally have enough pulpwood on hand for winter operations.

Injured in Accident

Walton Martin, 32, of Laitlin, town Road, Milton, suffered injuries about the head and back when the 1935 Chevrolet truck left the road and went down a bank on a sharp curve on the Binnewater Road about 3 a. m. today.

Martin was proceeding along the Binnewater Road when he came to a sharp curve and down hill grade. When he applied the brakes, to slow down the truck shot off the road and down a small bank.

Deputy sheriff Ray Winne investigated for the sheriff's office and conveyed Martin to the Kingston Hospital where he was treated for his injuries and then released.

The front end, bumper and left front door of the truck were damaged.

"I was asleep when suddenly I felt the plane drop right out from under me," said one of the passengers, 34-year-old C. H. Elliott, druggist of Rome, Ga.

Thrown Topsy-Turvy
"We seemed to somersault half a dozen times before we finally hit. The cabin lights were on, and I think the pilot had the landing gear down. At first, there was a mild bump, like in a normal landing, and then we were thrown all topsy-turvy."

All the passengers highly praised Stewardess Camera, who helped each one to descend from the blazing plane, then went forward and led the pilot and co-pilot to the door.

Parts of the plane burst into two separate flames some 300 yards apart, one within 150 feet of the home of C. H. Profit, whose family had retired for the night.

"When I heard the crash, I looked out the window and thought the whole countryside was ablaze," Profit said. "We could feel the heat inside the house."

Profit summoned ambulances from Alexandria and also called the fire department. It was nearly three hours later before firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

Still there was Druggist Elliott, searching vainly for his baggage. He said it contained $25,000 in cash and checks for $27,955 which he was taking to New York to buy supplies for his firm.

Bigger Registration Expected In New York Than in 1942

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—

Registration figures indicated today that far more New Yorkers would go to the polls this year than in 1942, the last time a governor was chosen.

New York city was half a million ahead of its 1942 total, and a similar trend was noted throughout the state on the final day for personal registration.

Leaders of both parties found auguries of success in the heavy turnout.

The November 5 poll will determine whether Governor Dewey returns to office or gives up to Democratic U. S. Senator James M. Mead, in a contest expected to clarify Dewey's presidential chances.

Wide interest attaches also to the U. S. Senate fight between former Governor Herbert H. Lehman and Irving M. Laves, former Republican majority leader in the state Assembly.

In three days, Buffalo officials have recorded 141,594 names, or 31,731 more than in the first three days of 1942 personal registration.

In Rochester, 84,936 voters have qualified, compared with 72,261. Albany's totals are 54,809 and 50,301. New York city's five registration days have brought out 1,801,935, compared with 1,295,627.

Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick, interviewed yesterday in Buffalo, attributed the rise to the return of servicemen, who, he said, "have not forgotten."

Cafeteria Style Service
Washington, Oct. 12 (AP)—The service at 18 of Washington's best known hotels went cafeteria style today. Outside paraded the picket lines for 5,000 striking A.F.L. waiters, waitresses, chambermaids, elevator operators, telephone girls, porters, bellhops, cooks, kitchen workers and bartenders.

Inside, guests made their own beds, carried their own bags and waited for non-striking white colts to help to run an occasional elevator. If they got hungry, they ate out. The strike began late yesterday after a breakdown of negotiations for new union contracts to replace those which expired September 30.

Smith Says U.S. Will Support Slav Compromise on Magyars

Idea Is to Keep People in Ancestral Homes, Ambassador Declares

Paris, Oct. 10 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Walter B. Smith told the Peace Conference today that the United States was ready to back the transfer of some Magyar-populated areas of Czechoslovakia to defeated Hungary if necessary.

Smith, the U. S. ambassador to Russia, said the United States would support Czechoslovakia's compromise proposal to transfer 200,000 Magyars from Czech territory to Hungary through a bilateral agreement.

"Every effort should be made," Gen. Smith declared, "through minor territorial changes if necessary, to reduce to the minimum the number of people forced to leave their ancestral homes" under such an agreement.

Smith's statement was sandwiched between a string of Slav speeches which opened plenary session debate on the peace pact for Hungary—the fourth of five treaties to be considered. Slav delegates urged Hungary to join more solidly with the Slav-Danubian group of states.

The United States insisted that any transfer of Hungarians from Czechoslovakia be voluntary and by bilateral agreement. Smith said, and would be watching to see
